Be Careful with Over the Counter Products

Pls be extremely careful with that product as its a dangerous flammable product with high alcohol content. And never breathe it in and make sure your in a are well ventilated I also warn my clients about it.

Also things like raid, and other spray liquids is what we call a kill-on-contact chemical over the counter. It has no residue which means once dried there is nothing left there to contact with the insect that crawls next from the colony. It also doesn't allow the insect to take the insecticide back to the colony inside walls, siding, rooms, etc for colony elimination.
